

Local Attorneys Attend President Barack Obama's Inauguration

Since 1789 when just a few soldiers witnessed our country's first inauguration, when George Washington was sworn in, people have flocked to witness this important event. This year, local attorneys Mark Krueger and Michelle Hernandez of Krueger & Hernandez SC, were fortunate to witness history in the making when they were present for the swearing in of our 44th President, Barack Obama. The two were among the lucky 250,000 people to receive tickets to the swearing-in ceremony. They received their tickets from Wisconsin Congressman, Ron Kind. Both indicated that, although lines were long and temperatures cold, there was no place they'd rather be than in Washington, D.C. to celebrate this historic and momentous occasion. Both commented that not even the cold temperature, long lines and crowds of people could dampen the positive energy and support of everyone present to support our new President. Mark and Michelle returned anxious and ready to do their part to help renew America. Krueger & Hernandez SC is a full service law firm with offices located in Madison, Baraboo, Janesville and Elm Grove.
